He Raised the Cry That Any One Who Deserted Rim Would Be Suspected of Having Been Bribed. The Assembly Adopts the Minertty Report Exonerating the Ferentry Commission.

ALBANY, April 23.—The Republican Senators still find the Democratic minority strong in purpose, if weak in numbers, standing imvably in the way of their project to send an investigating committee to run amuck in the canal districts this fall. In the absence of any definite accusations concerning canal matters, the Democrats will continue to maintain the epposition that prevents the passage of the resolution for an investigation.

The Republican Senators are finding it necessary to use peculiar methods to keep their men in line. Those who have business reasons for wishing to have the deadlock broken and some of their schemes put through, have been building on the hope that the interest in the paving and other improvement bills for New York city would prevent the deadlock from being kept up by the Democrats. They now find that they are mistaken, and are getting restive. So the astute Fassett raised the cry that no one could desert him without being suspected of having been bribed. He started the story toat a number of persons interested in legislation had pooled their issues o raise the blockade, and were prepared to pay $10,000 apiece for deserters. Though he bunched the most incongruous elements in this fantastic combine, he found a Mugwump correspondent credulous enough to swallow the story, and, by getting it into print, has a new hold upon his followers.

The pending question at the opening of the session was on Senator Stadler's motion to table the canal resolution and take up the Freedom of Worship bill. The Republicans voted it down, and the ball was soon rolling in the same old groove. Senator Canton dulged in a little pleasantry by apologizing for not reading any of Senator Laughlin's smous canal oration yesterday. In the absence of any prayer he would repair the

He read the part of the speech in which Mr. Laughlin said that the Republicans had lost afteen Assemblymen and three Senators by reason of its attitude on canal questions. Mr. Captor also analyzed the million dollar appropristion figures in this morning's Bux. Then made a formal statement of the attitude of the Democratic Senators on the investigation

The position of the minerity in this Senate (who really The position of the majority of the people of the State) may e-briefly summarised as follows: L. We do not object to the investigation of specific

We oppose a political in vestigation by a partisan committee having for its undisquised purpose the effort to make political capital during the fall campaign as an annax to the Republican state Committee, but at the appears of the partisan in the republican state Committee, but at the appears of the lates.

4. We do not oppose the creation of as Commission, non-partisan in character, for the fair investigation of the managements of the capital similar to that which was authorized by the Legislature and appointed by Gow Tildes in 1670.

Benator Fassett attempted to dispose of the democratic objections to the inquiry. First, a to the expense, he said that it would be leas has the cost of the deadlock over the resoluthan the cost of the deadlook over the resolu-tion.

Senator Laughlin said that his intention was to have the capal interests pay the expenses of his proposed investigation.

Senator Ives jumped at the proposition, and said that it it was added to the Laughlin reso-lation that the investigation would be con-stated at no cost to the State, it would be passed without opposition.

"Se agreement will be made now," was Sen-ster Laughlin's response, and the audience was moved to laughter.

The two reports of the Commission and the bill saccompanying the majority report were the aspecial order for to-day. With such a position on money, and with the position for a revision of the banking laws, so as to make our banking advantages as favorable to agricultural communities, cliies, and towns, and with the purpose to provide good money, and enough of it, the Republican party will hold the West as solid for the party as it was in 1838, while the Menhiles will be party as it was in 1838, while the Menhiles will be party as it was in 1838, while the Menhiles will be party as it was in 1838, while the Menhiles will be party as it was in 1838, while the Menhiles will be party as it was in 1838, while the Menhiles will be party and the doubtful States for the protection party.

President Harrison has made a faithful executive in every public sense, and is lacking only in the personal popularity which gives a man the power of electricity in politics. He has demonstrated his qualities fully, and in pure intellectual ability is not second to any American living to-day, not even to his nhenomenal Secretary of State. Whoever is the Republican candidate must be a man who can maintain the solidarity of the party in the great agricultural region west of the Missispip. BRITISHERS MAKING MERBY.

Colebrating the 105th Auniversary of the Organization of the St. George's Society. The St. George's Society celebrated last evening its 105th anniversary, as well as the birthday of the patron saint of England, by as jolly a dinner as has been given at Delmonico's for a long time. The 215 Britishers who were present proved that the English do not always take their pleasures sadly.

Among these at the dinner were F. W. J. Hurst, the President, and other officers of the society, representatives of the sister societies of the city. Gen. O. O. Howard. Admiral Braine, Lieut, Henn, the Bev. Dr. De Costa. and Dr. D. Parker Morgan, chaplains of the society; Consul-General Booker, the Rev. Dr. E. Walpole Warren, the Rev. G. R. Vandewater.

E. Walpole Warren, the Rev. C. H. Yandewater. Commodore Kane of the New Yerk Yacht Club, E. S. Jaffray, ex-Treasurer J. J. Enoz. and Logan C. Murray.

The speaking was preceded by toasts to the Queen of England and the President of the United States, which were drunk standing, "God Save the Queen" and the "Star Spangled Banner" were sung appositely. The gies club which led the singing sang the first as justily as the second, and the rest of the company followed its example.

and said he wanted the great powers who made feorpre a saint to make Uncle from Baint Bamuel. Admiral Braine said he wan't atraid of the 200 Englishmen present, but he was atraid of the representatives of "the dam press" who, when he spoke not long ago at a dinner of the Cincinnati scelety in disparagement of the navy, had so reported him that he was railed at by every paper in the land and every editor sont him amarked copy of the reiling issue. To make up for this disparagement he said that in 1895 our growing navy would possess ships which, class for class, would have few equals and no superiors in any navy in the world.

Lieut Henn as a rejoinder said Great Britain already more than possessed such a navy. Others also spoke.

"U. S. MAIL" IN TROUBLE

Another Theatrical Troupe Winds Up Ita Coreer at Nible's.

Of all the theatres in this town Niblo's Garden has been the most unfortunate this season in its experiences with the companies playing there. It was learned last night that the troupe now occupying Niblo's, called "The U. S. Mail," is on the verge of disastrous disbandment, and that considerable hard work has been necessary on the manager's part to pre-ment, and that considerable hard work has been necessary on the manager's part to prevent the performers from closing up early in the week. After Saturday the company will cease to play.

Some of the actors said yesterday that no salaries have been paid for the past two weeks. Husiness had been had before they reached Niblo's and it did not improve there. Frank Dayld, the comedian, is a high-priced man, and, as he was specially engaged for the Niblo's engagement, he has insisted that his wages be paid to him in nightly installments, which has been done. Others in the east have not been so fortunate, but all of them have tried hard enough to secure what is owing to them. On Tuesday night a strike was imminent, the troupe having declared that unless some money was forthcoming, there would be no performance. In this dilemma Manager Gilmore of Niblo's was appealed to. He gave the actors his word that all the receipts above the expenses would be divided among the people pro rate, and with that understanding the company will probably finish their engagement.

Several of the actors declare that they encountered a "hoodoo" at Niblo's. They point to the fact that "A Lucky Man." The Canuck," and "Noah's Ark. all went to pieces after their Niblo's engagement. Manager Gilmore laughs at this, and asserts that the house is all right, but the attractions have been weak.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Money Spinner." The Kendals revived, at Palmer's Theatre last evening, a play which had been performed a few times on the same stage years before. In Wallack's time, but which was practically new to the audience. It was "The Money Spin-ner," by A. W. Pinero, whose dramas are never without excellences. This example of his work is no exception in the matter of artistic merit, but it puts forward a tough set of characters, and the one impersonated by Mrs. merit, but it puts forward to togal set of characters, and the one impersonated by Mrs. Kendal was almost the worst of them. Mr. Kendal was more faverably bestowed in the role of a rainer thick witted Scotch lord; but even he was not so high-minded as to hesitate to bribe a police dotective to prove recreant to his duty. There is a scoundrelly old gambler in the play, and his two daughters havelong been decoys in his Parisian gaming house. One nicknamed the Money Spinner, marries a man who robe his partners in business. The other woman, a waggering, cigarette-smoking creature, captures the lord, who takes her because he can't get the more brilliant sister. The Money Spinner cheats the lord at cards, in order to win money to save her husband from deserved punishment for his crime; and, when she is exposed, the victim forgives her and compounds the thiel's felony, thus leaving the whole party of rascals quits successful hypocrites. Eo the moral can hardly be called a good one.

But seeing that Nicholas Muller. The New York Central and the West Shore, with which the Grand Trunk connects at Niagara, are participating in the boycott, and the best that was cusen to the Alton by that route was business to and from Buffalo, which was of very small benefit to it. The Grand Trunk will continue to handle the Alton's business by way of Montreal, and, besides, they say, there are still thirty-seven roads in the territory represented by the Board of Rulings that have refrained from taking part in the boycott. It is claimed by the Alton's friends that at least two Eastern trunk lines are to-day paying commissions to the arents of connecting, lines, and it is further asserted that every one of the roads that issued the order against the Alton is paying a commission of 10 per cent, on every ticket sold over its lines by the steamship companies bringing emigrants to this country. As yet the boycotted road has found no difficulty in sending all its through passengers East without inconvenience, and the crowded condition of its trains indicates that it is getting its share of west-through passengers East without inconvenience, and the crowded condition of its trains indicates that it is getting its share of west-bound business. Much interest attaches to the special meeting of the Western roads. They will be called upon to decide whether they will stand by the Alton in its first with the Eastern lines or hold aloof and let their association be wrecked.

Chicago despatches say that President Hill of the Great Northern has ordered a cut of 11 cents on lake and rail rates via Duluth, by the Northern Bteamship Company, in order to meet the $1.07 rate of the Boo line, which was quotted yesterday by the Canada atlantic fast freight line. The Northern Steamship Company's rate is said to be 90 cents first class. Now York to St. Paul. The Chicago despatch

"No action has been taken looking to a reduction by way of Chasgo, but a conference of the interested lines were be held in a day or two to decide what shall be done. Ohairman Midgley is trying to check the threatened demoralization of rates, and has asked the Western roads to take no action until he has had an opportunity of communicating with the parties responsible for the cut. There seems to be little hope, however, that rates will be restored and maintained on the agreed basis. Eastbound lake and rail rates were cut before a wessel left this port for Buffalo, and the indications are that they will strike bed rock very early in the season."

A 8t. Paul despatch says the Great Northern people do not yet admit that they have ordered a reduction. It says: "The officials were reticent about it and would not give any intimation as to what their new rate sheet would be, or when it would be issued. It may be considered certain, however, that the Great Northern is not going to see its business taken ways from it by any cut in rates. None of President Hill's subordinates dare to state what his next move will be, even if they know it, which is doubtful.

There were no new developments yesterday in the New York phase of the boycott against the Chicago and Alton, but interesting developments are expected to-day when General Manager Doane has promised to give Superintendent Weber of the Barrse Office an answer about the disposal of passengers that want to reach points situated only on the Alton. It is believed that Mr. Doane will simply ask a postponement until next week, because the general passenger sents of the trunk lines have done nothing yet about the matter. This is thought to be a challenge to the Alton, and probably the Alton will take it up. The Eastern representative of that company will ask Col. Weber to-day to allow him to place an agent in the Barge Office, so as to have an equal chance with the trunk lines in soliciting business.

Pirsuant to a mandate of the Supreme Court of Illinois, the Illinois Central Railroad has been put in possession of the freight house and grounds hestelofers occupied by the Bailimore and Ohio, on the Lake front at Chicago. This ends a litigation that was begun a number of years ago, when the Garretts were in control of the Bailimore and Ohio, and which has been prolonged by successive appeals by the latter company. The quarrel that existed between the two companies when the litigation commenced was ended long ago. The most friendly relations exist between President Fish and the present management of the Bailimore and Ohio, and the result of the suit is not likely to cause any friction.

A Washington despatch says: "Three parties will soon be in the Beld engaged in a preliminary survey for the preposed inter-continental American railway. The Chicago-St. Paul lines did not reach an agreement with the "Soo" line yeaterday relative to east-bound passenger rates. The Chicago roads are willing to allow the "Soo" a differential of $1.50 en business from St. Paul to seaboard points provided it will agree not to pay higher commissions in Western territory than are authorized by the Western Passenger Association. At yesterday's meeting the "Soo" line representative said he did not see his way clear to accepting this proposition unless it were also agreed to by his competitors.

PHILIP L. MOEN DEAD.

The Mystery of His Relations with Levi WORCESTER, April 23,-Philip Louis Moen.

President of the Washburn & Moen Manu-facturing Company, which controls valuable barbed wire patents, and is the biggest wiremaking establishment in this country, died here to-day.

He received his early training in a hardware store in New York, entered the employ of his father-in-lawin 1847, and in 1850 he became a partner in what has grown to be one of the biggest and most successful business enterprise in the world. Mr. Washburn died in 1870. The big miles now employ about 3,500 men.

Over Mr. Moen's, private life there was the shadow of a great mystery, his relations with the notorious "Doe" Levi Wilson, which nine years ago was the topic of discussion in the newspapers of the country. The two men differed widely in their personal habits and tastes. Mr. Moen was uristocratic in taste, kindly in manner, noted for philanthropy, apparently a consistent Christian, and a business man of great wealth. Wilson was illiterate, profane, and vulgar. Yet for no known cause Mr. Moer consistent Christian, and a business man of great wealth. Wilson was illiterate, profane, and vulgar. Yet for no known cause Mr. Moen paid over to this man between $300,000 and $400,000 in the space of five or six years without consideration.

Even Mr. Moen's most intimate friends never knew he secret of his relations with Wilson. Wilson used to make frequent trips to Worcester, and Mr. Moen always obeyed his summons. At times he showed bank books with sums to his credit ranging from $40,000 to $60,000. He spent money like a prince. He kept a fine stable bought such horses as pleased him, and if they did not suit gave them away.

Wilson's private life was a succession of scandals. He began living with Hattle Engley when she was only 17, but after five years tired of her, and according to her story, offered her $50,000 to consent to a separation. She agreed and signed a release but never received the money. In 1882 she brought suit against Wilson or $50,000 for breach of promise, and her father brought another for $50,000 for seduction. The suits first called public attention to the source of "Doe" Wilson's wealth. Wilson was arrested in Providence on these suits and thrown into ial, where he vemained two days. He got out by putting a trust deed representing $100,000 worth of property in the hands of a man who went ball for him. These suits were settled privately.

Three-other young women lare also known to have sued him for breach of promise. Speculation exhausted itself many years ago as to the secret of the relations between Moen and this spendthrift, and it was himed that the case was one of blackmail but Mr. Moon denied this as emphatically denied by Mr. Moen cand his asemphatically denied by Mr. Moen cand his asemphatically denied by Mr. Moen cand his semphatically denied by Mr. Moen cand his semphatically denied by Mr. Moen cand his was emphatically denied by Mr. Moen cand his was emphatically denied by Mr. Moen cand that the latter had paid him to keep the secret.
